FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Davenport Group Welcomes
New Vice President of Engineering and Operations

Saint Paul, MN, August 1, 2017 — Davenport Group enthusiastically welcomes Alex Bauer, who joins the company as Vice President of Engineering and Operations.

In his new role, Mr. Bauer will oversee experienced operations and engineering teams. He will ensure that all Davenport Group customers continue to receive exemplary services and support for every end-to-end IT solution.

Mr. Bauer has more than 20 years of experience in global operations management and services, in leading organizations through challenging business transitions, and in critical solution implementations and dramatic organizational growth. He has directed domestic and international organizations and led global client teams in strategy execution and resource consolidation. He has also directed planning and implementation efforts for major technical solutions. This experience spans across many industries and countries. Recent roles, at Dell EMC specifically, have leveraged this background to grow services and expand product offerings.

“We are looking to expand our portfolio of service offerings as we continue to grow the company,” said Sonia St. Charles, Chief Executive Officer of Davenport Group. “Alex’s proven record of driving superior business results and leading transformations make him the absolute right fit for this role. We are more than pleased to welcome him to Davenport Group.”

Mr. Bauer will be a valuable addition as the company continues to grow in service and solution offerings. Mr. Bauer will ensure Davenport Group’s excellent customer service remains their number one priority.
